CELADON INCENSE BURNER

$458

c. 1850 • Northern China, China • Ceramic • Collection #PP004

H: 5.0" Dia: 5.5"

This burner was used in Northern China over 150 years ago: the fragrant incense was burned to honor ancestors, treat ailments and perfume the air. Collectors have coveted Celadon ceramics, like this beautiful incense burner, for centuries. The glazing process is complex: an artisan covered the vase in liquid iron-rich clay, and then with a glaze that reacts to the iron to create this shade of green.
