CELADON PHOENIXTAIL VASE

$380

2015 • Zhejiang, China • Porcelain • Collection #BJEE118

H: 16.75" Dia: 8.0"

Called a phoenix tail vase for its elegantly flared shape, this contemporary ceramic vessel displays the lustrous green glaze of celadon. Described by ancient Chinese as a “full moon dyed with spring water,” celadon ware is prized for its luminous color. Perfected over the centuries, the glaze ranges in color from blue-green to olive green, owing to the amount of iron oxide added to the glaze.
